

FLOOD EXPO 2019 PREVIEW

GeoConnexion is proud to announce its partnership with Flood Expo 2019. On the 11th & 12th of September, the world's largest flood prevention exhibition will be returning to the Birmingham NEC

The Flood Expo, sponsored by Aquaclear Water Management and supported by The Environmental Agency, is the world's largest exhibition designed to help the most progressive flood professionals discover the latest innovative products, services and strategies that transform the way flooding is predicted, prevented, and managed.

This year's exhibition promises to be the most forward-thinking to date, housing 150 cutting-edge exhibitors, with the likes of what3words, The Forest Group and Hydronalix, as well as 100 expert led seminars from the world's leading flood experts.

Alongside a world-class lineup of CPD-accredited educational talks and demonstrations, will be an unprecedented showcase of products and services from the world's most dominant flood defence and control companies, who will highlight new, cost-effective ways to prevent and manage floods.

This expo is entirely devoted to presenting strategies and groundbreaking technology to widespread flooding problems, with a focus on developments in flood management, the future of flood defence infrastructure, delivery of flood risk management, case studies of flood experiences, affordable and accessible flood defence measures and future flooding and erosion risks in the UK as key features of the show.

Flood Expo 2019 has more space dedicated to networking than ever before. The shows networking area, sponsored by Gravitas International, is specifically designed for all professionals and business owners working in flood defence, prevention and prediction to interact and form long-lasting relationships in the most comfortable environment possible

Aside from the 150 industry leading exhibitors, visitors will also benefit from the expert-led seminar schedule, and an unrivalled lineup of keynote speakers to be announced in the coming months, so keep an eye on our social media!

After the success of last year's Flood Expo Awards, 2019 will see three more cutting-edge firms within the flood industry receive one of these prestigious accolades. The awards recognise those companies that are breaking boundaries in both technological innovation and product design, and are making a difference to the way flooding is predicted, prevented and managed across the globe in today's challenging climate.

A judging panel comprised of some of the biggest and most respected voices in the sector will select one winner for each of the three award categories - Innovation Award; Mitigation Award; and Resilience Award - making them a set of highly illustrious and sought-after accolades. The finalists will present to a judge's panel at the show, giving them a chance to pitch their product or service and the reason why they should win. Visitors are welcome to join the award presentations.

With exhibitors from across many sectors all coming together under one roof, it is hard to find a reason not to attend. Instead of spending hours looking at companies on the internet, speak to the people behind the solution face to face.
